Scott and the Veteran.

BY BAYARD TAYLOR.

An old and crippled veteran to the War Department came;
He sought the Chief who led him [illegible]
[illegible]
And [illegible] flying foes.

"Have you forgotten, General," the battered soldier cried,
"The days of eighteen hundred twelve, when I was at your side?
Have you forgotten Johnson, that fought at Lundy's Lane?
'Tis true I'm old and pensioned, but I want to fight again."

"Have I forgotten?" said the Chief; "my brave old soldier, No!
And here's the hand I gave you then, and let it tell you so:
But you have done your share, my friend; you're crippled, old, and gray,
And we have need of younger arms and fresher blood to-day."

"Oh, General," said the veteran, a flush upon his brow;
"The very men who fought with us, they say, are traitors now;
They've torn the flag of Lundy's Lane, our old red, white and blue,
And while a drop of blood is left, I'll show that drop is true."

"I'm not so weak but I can strike, and I've a good old gun
To get the range of traitors' hearts, and pick them one by one.
Your Minie rifles and such arms it ain't worth while to try;
I couldn't get the hang of them, but I'll keep my powder dry."

"God bless you, comrade!" said the Chief, "God bless your loyal heart!
But younger men are in the field, and claim to have their part;
They'll plant our sacred banner in each rebellious town,
And woe, henceforth, to any hand that dares to pull it down!"

"But, General!" still persisting, the weeping veteran cried:
"I'm young enough to follow, so long as you're my guide;
And some, you know, must bite the dust, and that at least can I;
So give the young ones place to fight, but me a place to die!

"If they should fire on Pickens, let the Colonel in command
Put me upon the rampart, with the flag-staff in my hand;
No odds how hot the cannon-smoke, or how the shells may fly,
I'll hold the Stars and Stripes aloft, and hold them till I die!

"I'm ready, General, so you let a post to me be given,
Where Washington can see me, as he looks from highest Heaven,
And say to Putnam at his side, or may be General Wayne,
'There stands old Billy Johnson, that fought at Lundy's Lane!'

"And when the fight is hottest, before the traitors fly,
When shell and ball are screeching, and bursting in the sky,
If any shot should hit me, and lay me on my face,
My soul would go to Washington, and not to Arnold's place!"

FRUITS OF SECESSION.—Under the above head the Morning Call enumerates the fruits of secession, as follows:

We have now had ten months experience of the beauties of secession, and its advocates and apologists will do well to consider the fruits it has produced in the short space of time intervening since it first threw out its branches. The country has lost thousands of lives; the people, North and South, have expended millions and millions of treasure; two of the largest States in the Union have been thoroughly devastated by the horrors of war, their fields destroyed and buildings laid in ruins, their commerce stopped and their industry extinguished; hundreds of millions have been added to the public debt, and the indebtedness is increasing rapidly; the productive capacity of one-half the country has been entirely destroyed, or rendered useless, while its commerce has been utterly ruined. All these horrors, natural results of secession, and the logical consequences of the arguments and acts of those who advocate or sympathize with the dangerous heresy. The man who sympathizes with carnage, [illegible] and devastation, and all attendant [illegible], the man who advocates secession apologizes for Secessionists—advocates national ruin, heavy taxation, destruction of commerce and manufactures, and general disorder. Cover secession with all the tinsel and finery of which logic and a skillful arrangement of words are capable, and still it is nothing more nor less than the hideous monster we have attempted to describe. It is the political Pandora Box, opened by traitors, now flooding the land with countless evils which are to breed new and undreamed of evils in the future. When we see even a portion of the horrors which naturally result from secession, we are filled with wonder to know that there are even in California and Oregon hundreds and hundreds who advocate and apologize for the damnable heresy; and we can appreciate the mercy and justice which would order into confinement and safe keeping all those guilty of speaking and publishing the ruin enveloped doctrine.

ENGLISH NEUTRALITY.—The telegraph has announced the arrival of James Ferguson, member of the British Parliament, at Richmond, with letters to Jeff. Davis from the Confederate Commissioners in Europe. It can be no longer disputed that the rebel authorities are in regular communication with the European Powers, through the agents of these governments, or of men who, like Sir James, are enabled to cover their designs by their face of neutrality. The passport system can hardly reach such people. A gentleman in London, writing to a Government official in this city, states positively, that the rebel commissioners are in more communication with the Richmond cabal. They receive and send letters by every mail. In many instances, he says, they are brought by special bearers, sometimes by English and French agents. He says further that agents of the rebel government are constantly employed in purchasing materials of various kinds, for shipment to Southern ports. Vessels, too, are fitted out right under the eyes of the English authorities.—Washington Star, Oct. 9.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 9, 1861.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN will be published this morning.

It will contain the latest telegraphic news from the East and California, a selection of the best articles appearing in the DAILY OREGONIAN, and the most copious Commercial Information published by any paper in the State.

The average amount of reading matter in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is greater than that published by any other journal in Oregon; and in the particular of Commercial Statistics we aim to make it the most reliable, more especially in regard to that which pertains to Oregon interests.

It will be mailed to order for 12½ cents per copy, or $3 per annum, to any part of the United States or British Columbia.

HENRY L. PITTOCK

What is the Democracy of the Portland Advertiser and its Friends?

We have an answer in the Advertiser of yesterday. It says that Mr. Stark's appointment as Senator "will give entire satisfaction to the democracy of this State."

The "democracy" sustain men holding their own principles. It is only necessary then to present the principles of Benjamin Stark, as he has declared them on many occasions in our city—and which are known of all men—to understand what are the principles of democracy as understood by the Portland Advertiser and its party supporters.

We have authority for stating that on the receipt of the news to this city of the disaster at Manassas, he drank a toast to Beauregard. He said he did not go one cent on the Stars and Stripes, but that the Palmetto was his flag, and that his sympathies were with the South. We are authorized to say that he declared on another occasion that we had no government but that of the Confederate States. This is the man and his principles which are said to "give entire satisfaction to the democracy of the State."

We do not believe that any man in this State, or any party in this State, who hold the veiws and principles as thus avowed, can be regarded in any other light than traitors to our Union, to our Constitution and to our laws.

The facts are before the people. Judge ye!

MORE ADVERTISER "DEMOCRACY."—The Oregon Gazette will undoubtedly be satisfied with the appointment of Benjamin Stark as Senator, and will expect him to support the doctrines of that paper—and these are, that "the restoration of the Union is not within the bounds of possibility,"—that "the seceded States are determined to live under a separate government—that they have declared they have parted with us forever"—that, "restoration is an impossibility"—and that "the only hope left for us is, that friendly relations may be established between the two governments." The Gazette will approve of Benjamin Stark's appointment. The Gazette ought to go a little farther and tell us where Oregon is to go to in this division of the country—whether she is to be attached to the South, or be made a Pacific Republic.

Senator Stark's views will probably satisfy the Gazette. He is for Beauregard—for the South, and declares that the Palmetto flag is his forever!—That's a beautiful Senator to send to Washington to act with honest patriotic Senators!!

Fort Lafayette is within a day's ride of Washington.

The San Francisco Herald, in referring to the expected appointment of a Senator in Oregon, says that Gov. Whiteaker is of disunion proclivities and if he "appoints a secessionist to the vacant Senatorship, it would be interesting to speculate on the results."—He has done all this; and with the evidence constantly accumulating against the Senator of his hostility to the government and his devotion to that of the Southern Confederacy, we agree with the Herald that there are some "interesting results" in prospect. If he has been honest in his public declarations, we do not see how he can swear to support the Constitution of the United States.

The New Senator.

It is due from the patriotic Union men of this city, who have listened to Mr. Stark's tirades against our government, our armies, our great national effort to sustain the Union, and his declarations in favor of the success of treason and rebellion, to make the facts known, as best they can, to the officers of government and to the Senators of the United States at Washington city! They can do this by making affidavits of the facts, and placing them in the hands of proper persons. We suggest this measure, because we owe a duty to Oregon and the government. The nation is beset by traitors, and we shall be derelict to our duty if we fail to present the facts in this case.

Personally we do not desire to make war upon Mr Stark. We have in view a higher and holier purpose.

Meeting of the Knights of the Golden Circle.

There is to be a meeting of the Knights of the Golden Circle for Oregon, at Salem, on Monday or Tuesday next—to admit new members and to agree on a system of measures, to carry Oregon for secession at the next election.

FROM VICTORIA.—We have Victoria papers including the 5th. The Otter arrived the day before from Westminster, bringing $25,000 in gold dust. The Cariboo miners had come down. Those hyperborean regions were closed up for the winter.

Miners, in coming down, stopped at Lillooet, to witness a horse race. Negro Baby carried the day; $15,000 changed hands, besides some $1,000 which went out of the pack of an individual without his knowledge.

The Colonist of the 2d says that Mr. J. T. Scott had just arrived from Cariboo. (We beg our readers to understand that this is not our old friend, J. T. Scott, of Forest Grove.) Mr. Scott says the best paying claim is on Antler Creek, which has paid as high as forty ounces to the hand per day. One day's work, the best they did, was one hundred and sixty four ounces. (It was curious to see the miners, after they had done their day's work, go staggering up to the cabins under their loads of dust—very curious, indeed.) He looked on the operations of Steele & Co's company three days; the first day they took out two hundred and seventy-eight ounces; second day, two hundred and fifty-six ounces; third day, two hundred and eighty-three ounces. Mr. Scott, having made these observations, immediately left for Victoria, with all the miners in the diggings.

INVINCIBILITY OF FREEDOM.—Except Bryant's apostrophe to freedom, we know of nothing in English literature equal to the following burning sentiment, uttered by the lamented Baker in his address at the American theater, San Francisco, prior to his departure for Washington as Oregon's Senator:

"As for me, I dare not, will not be false to Freedom. Where the feet of my youth were planted, there, by Freedom, my feet shall ever stand. I will walk beneath her banner; I will glory in her strength. I have watched her in history struck down on a hundred chosen fields of battle. I have seen her friends fly from her; her foes gather around her. I have seen her bound to the stake; I have seen them give her ashes to the winds. But when they turned to exult, I have seen her again meet them face to face, resplendent in complete steel, brandishing in her right hand the flaming sword, red with insufferable light. I take courage. The people gather around her. The Genius of America will at last lead her sons to Freedom."

Gov. Curry is much exercised with the apprehension that drafting will be made use of to obtain men for the army. If this shall be done, it will be to force such men as the Governor into the ranks to fight for the country which protects them, or to run them off to Jeff. Davis where they belong.

The Advertiser says that Gen. Butler voted fifty times for Jeff. Davis for President.—Query—who did the Advertiser vote for, for President?

The London Times thinks that measures are in progress to secure the cotton required by English manufacturers from India; and that the time is near at hand when the world can wag along without any cotton from the South.

It is said that Kanawha valley, in Virginia, has been devastated by the rebels, and that the farmers are leaving as rapidly as possible.

Binding grain by machinery has been successfully accomplished in Iowa. The band is of wire. The cost of wire sufficient to bind an acre of average grain is about fifteen cents.

The town meetings in Connecticut, for the nomination of town officers, are nearly all called by Union men, without regard to party. There is found occasionally a "peace" man, who is made sad by this state of things.

SOUTHERNERS IN THE COUNTRY [illegible]—The Paris correspondent of the N. Y. [illegible] writes under date of Sept. [illegible]

"There are several [illegible] among Southerners here, caused by [illegible] the suspension of communication between Europe and the Southern States. Gentlemen from the 'Sunny South,' who came to Europe some time since, and who have been depending for their funds upon [illegible] remittances, now find themselves completely run out, and dispossessed even of the means of paying for their [illegible] 'cock tails' and 'brandy smashes.' They are in the unfortunate condition of the man who can't neither go nor stay. They can't get away for two reasons: They have no money, and won't take the oath of allegiance; and landlords, and tailors, and restaurant keepers are becoming clamorous for their pay. One young man from Mobile, who is said to have an income of eight thousand dollars a year, is in the debtors' prison of Clichy, at the suit of an 'American bar-room.' Another young man, of a wealthy family in Louisiana, has been obliged to enter a store as clerk, and still another has entered [illegible] in the office of an architect. But the hardest case of all which has come to my knowledge is that of a young man from one of the Southern States, who by the stoppage of the Southern mails is left perfectly destitute here. But this is not the worst of it. He has been for some time engaged to be married to a young lady in Boston, and the happy event was set for the 15th of September. The time has passed, and the unhappy lover, with three thousand miles of briny ocean between him and his beloved, is living here upon the charity of his friends. He certainly cannot be very enthusiastic upon the subject of 'secesh.'"

The Portland Advertiser complained that Gen. Johnston was superceded by Gen. Sumner at San Francisco. Gen. Johnston is now with the rebel army under Gen. Price.

☞ Coughs.—The [illegible] of our climate [illegible] of [illegible] Bronchial and Asthmatic [illegible]. Experience having proved that simple remedies [illegible] speedily and certainly when taken in the early [illegible] of the disease, recourse should at once be had to [illegible] Bronchial Troches, or Lozenges, let the Cold [illegible] or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by [illegible] more serious attack may be effectually [illegible] off. CHANGE OF STEAMERS.—On or after Monday the Express will take the place of the [illegible] on the route between here and Oregon City, leaving this place at 9 o'clock a. m. and the City at 3 p. m.

INSANE.—A man by the name of Samuel Barnes was sent to the Insane hospital yesterday by the county Judge.

SHIPMENT OF GOLD DUST.—The sum of $64,500, in gold dust, was shipped per express on the steamer Cortes, besides a large amount in the hands of passengers.

The statement published in our paper last week that the Cortes would land at the Central Wharf, was made upon what we supposed to be good authority. We are now informed that an order was not given for the purpose under an apprehension that the wharf would not be completed in time. The disappointment seemed to be great to many of our citizens. It is said now by those who appear to know, that hereafter she will land at Central Wharf.

EXPORTS.—The steamer Cortes which sailed last night had the following cargo for San Francisco:

5279 boxes apples, 4000 sks flour, 60 sks bacon, 12 cases do., 68 boxes eggs, 68 pkgs butter, 30 bbls Oregon cider, 40 bales wool, 9 sks onions, 3 cases mdse, 3 rolls leather, 1 bale mdse, 3 coops fowls, 6 horses and [illegible] tons military stores.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.—Companies C and K of the ninth infantry, Captains Black and Van Voast commanding, also the band of the ninth infantry regiment so well and favorably known in this city, took their departure on the Cortes; their destination is for the States as soon as they can get the regiment together at San Francisco.

Nothing of any importance was transacted by the Common Council last night. This body had but a half hour session.

CAPT STRANG.—He has returned from California, and we are glad to say with health much improved.

The Advertiser has seen two men come off the Vancouver steamer with their hands tied behind their backs, and he is at loss for the cause. They had committed treason against our laws.

SECEDED.—J. HALLORAN, from the Advocate. Mr. Halloran is at present foreman of the "Advocate office."

They have been having "Willamette weather at the Dalles." McIntosh and India rubber coats were in demand.

HARKER BROTHERS'

Portland May 16 1861 ly

COTTON IN CUBA.—The cultivation of cotton has begun to occupy considerably the attention of land-owners throughout the Island of Cuba. It appears from the Havana papers that old worn-out coffee fields, which have been used as mere [illegible] are [illegible] after by speculators for the [illegible] turning them into cotton plantations, and the [illegible] of these lands have suddenly risen to a very high figure. There are already three cotton plantations in the immediate neighborhood of Havana, and the mania for the enterprise appears to be quite considerable in that city.

MANIA.—The San Francisco Mirror refuses to join in the general clamor against Fremont, and thinks he should be treated with as much consideration by the press as by the Administration. It does not pretend that he is altogether blameless, but rightly thinks that Government will attend to his case as far as it needs attention, in due time, and that meanwhile it is damaging to the Union cause to mercilessly hound one of its foremost soldiers ere he has been proved incompetent or unrighteous. So think all reasonable patriots.

Mr. Bush, in a letter to the Statesman, written on the 20th of September, says:

"The Government is now manifesting unwonted vigilance, and more than usual efficiency. Treason, in the loyal States, is being dealt with, seditious and traitorous presses suppressed, and traitors and sympathizers arrested and confined. If this course had been adopted months ago, rebellion would not now have the strength it has, and hundreds of men, now in the rebel army, or escaped from the Government officers, would have been in our forts and prisons."

INDIAN BATTLE.—The settlers of Round Valley, had a battle lately about eight miles north-west of Nome Cult farm with a band of Indians and Mexicans who had stolen stock from the valley. They killed about one hundred and eight Indians and two or three Spaniards. They found twenty-eight horses and a large lot of hogs. None of the whites were injured in the fight. The Reservation Indians were engaged in the robbery.

Efforts are being made in Ohio to have three months' men enlisted for immediate service in Kentucky; but the Governor is opposed to the project, and emphatically orders that volunteers shall be received for the war or three years.
